Dear Jason:

I am writing to thank you for the wonderful performance you gave at our recent Western Regional Mutual Self-Help Housing Conference in Salt Lake City, Utah. The Mutual Self-Help program is a challenging one and one of our goals at this conference was to provide the participants with many chances to network and bond with each other for support and resources. Your songs and impressions spanned multiple generations and the entertainment you provided at our reception gave them a chance to bond in a different way as they laughed and sang along.

As part of the planning process for this conference, we met with staff from the Utah USDA Rural Development office. It was on their recommendation that we contacted you as a candidate for entertainment at this event. We were impressed with the information we received about your act and the previous events at which you had performed. We knew that as a resident of Park City, you were aware of the Mutual Self-Help program and we appreciated the warm but professional manner with which we were treated by your company. Everything went smoothly and we couldn't be more pleased.

We wish you the best of luck with your career and see great things for you in the future.

Sincerely,

William French
Chief Executive Officer
